A first person shooter combat roleplaying game revolving around a single map from WW1. It takes place near the 'Home Of the Brave' - Wilson's Line in the American Expeditionary Force, the 'diamond of the Yank line'. The game features the famous 103rd Infantry Regiment (2nd Maine) and their fierce combat to hold the ground where the US declared war. As You know, the war began - and wars were only won by the hardest of the hardest. That is the reason why a hundred people had to die on the American Front to advance a little bit of the political line. But nobody wants to live their lives as a hero. It's even better to be an ordinary soldier. Full of a pride of going to the battlefield again and again, having bad luck and living in a place of war. The “Home of the Brave” is a place full of war stories. It is not a peaceful place anymore. In the combat roleplaying and first person shooter genre of games, many of us don’t understand how each other goes about live their lives. Neither do they understand why we die. And why we go to fight one another’s war. It might be war, but it is not a normal war. It is a war which has too much blood to lose. Many of us stayed to fight for the home of the brave, for a place to be as safe and pleasant as the land of the free and the home of the brave. The war began, and everyone became part of a temporary union. Then the war started to show all of its terrible side - as more people joined this union and took their places. And the war was still “just” and an “ordinary” war. The 103rd Infantry Regiment was part of the 103rd Infantry Regiment 2nd Maine- and the 103rd Infantry Regiment 2nd Maine had to fight for their destiny to keep their “home of the brave”. Their perseverance paid off and the forces of the USA had their strong foothold on the war front. Later on, the New York Times newspaper wrote an article of them called: The War To Be Proud Of. Hickam Air Force Base has a military jet runway nearby as well. Let's have a look at all the terminals.

Terminal 1 (International) Terminal 1 is the international terminal of the airport, with a sizable number of jet bridges connecting to gates 1-6. The terminal has eight concourses, A-F, as well as one security checkpoint, G. Terminal 1 currently has six gates, G1-6.

Terminal 2 (Domestic) Terminal 2 is the domestic terminal, with concourses J-L. The terminal also has eight gates, M1-8. Terminal 2 currently has four gates, M4-7.

Terminal 3 (Domestic) Terminal 3 is the domestic terminal, with concourses E and F, and gates J, K, L, M and O. This terminal has the biggest number of gates at the airport, with ten gates in total. Terminal 3 currently has four gates, M4-7, M8, P1-P2 and R. Terminal 2 and 3 are currently in the works for a modernization and expansion that will bring them to the current era of airports, with more jet bridges and security checkpoints. This will also help ease the overcrowding that the terminals face, as it is one of the oldest terminals at the airport. Future plans also include adding four cargo runways at the airport.

Terminal 3 in the future. PLAYERS CAN RACE WITH ANY OTHER PLAYER ON ANY TEAM

THAT HAS A SKILL: FREE: All of the players on the starting roster can play with any other player on any team that has a skill, if both are playing on the same team. All players can play with players of any class (which usually means that the players are skill ranks). Any class of the players can play with any class of the other player. So, if a player is Skill: 3, can play with anyone and anyone can play with him, assuming both are on the same team. You can also play with other classes on your team, provided you can afford the price. Team: All players can play on any team. You can play on any team even if you are not on the starting roster. Of course, playing on any team will reduce your practice time, so you should avoid it unless you have an extremely strong roster. Opponent: If you are on the starting roster, then you can play against any team, even if they have

is a loco add-on for Train Simulator 2017. Train Simulator 2017 was released to help you to restore and keep your memories of those long forgotten steam train trips on rail routes across the United States. You will be able to drive U.S. railroads from Train Simulator 2017 version 2017.1 or greater and they will be based on the real locations of all the long forgotten trains, engines, steam tunnels and everything else from a real steam train trip. There are 2 original U33C engine types in both versions of Train Simulator 2017 and this loco will be available for the 2017.1 version of Train Simulator 2017. This loco is a true replica of the original Southern Pacific U33C 4-8-4 "Skunk" type 4-8-4 steam loco, also known as "Honey" type 4-8-4, Northern Pacific GP-7, and Canadian National 534. The Honey loco is the only 4-8-4 steam loco to operate on the world's busiest containerized train route: the Southern Pacific - container train route. This add-on is for people who still want to feel the real steam train experience. The Northern has nicely preserved all the artifacts from both sides that would be in similar condition. Changelog Version 1.1 - 23/08/2017: 1.1 Added better repainting of the Southern Pacific U33C - up close Version 1.0 Added this project! This add-on allows for you to drive the Southern Pacific U33C "Honey" type 4-8-4 steam locomotive on your trips through the United States on Amtrak's container train service (from the Eastern seaboard) or the Northern Pacific Railroad (from the Canadian seaboard to the Great North West). This add-on was inspired by the Northern Pacific Steam Locomotive Trust's Southern Pacific Google Earth map markers that were used in the Steam Train Simulation game in partnership with SteamCog Logistics. This add-on is NOT compatible with Train Simulation 2017: Steam Train Simulator 2017, nor does this add-on enhance any of the connected game modules. You will receive a full separate folder in My Files (Steam) containing the train engine, track, and many other associated objects as described in the readme. You will need to use a 2017.1 or greater version of Train Simulator 2017 in order for you to drive this loc
