amazing! iflix also launched a feature called playlist that enables you to get up to 5 of your friends to binge-watch a show or movie together! if you have read my previous post about technology in the classroom then you will know that this new feature is pretty handy for me. this is a really cool feature that allows me to have a binge-watch with my friends and their families. it is a british based company founded by andres santiago. it is a very easy feature to use, simply connect to the website, hit play and you are off! there are a bunch of shows and movies to choose from and you can also search for shows to binge-watch by keyword. i have been binge-watching game of thrones with my friend and we love it! if you want to check out more of their shows or movies then head on over to their website www.iflix.com. it is a free feature but it does have certain limitations like the fact that you are only able to connect to a maximum of 5 devices at one time. hopefully the company will come up with a way to increase that number soon.
